SUCCESS IN EVERY WAY TELLS STORY
OF LEE CO. FAIRBiggest Crowds in Recent Years; Fine Exhibits and Races

One of the few record breaking fairs in the history of the Lee County Fair Association came to a close yesterday afternoon with another large crowd, the biggest for the last day of the fair in years. The day generally, weather and entertainment was in keeping with the program offered throughout the week. There were 12 horses entered in the 224 pace, which necessitated its being raced in two races with six starters in each section. The original program called for but two events on the racing program of the closing day, but the change gave the big crowd three events.

Charlie Herr, Jr., owned by R. G. Jacobs of Amboy and driven by Fred Meade of Paw Paw, was the winner of the 224 trot. Finishing at the end of the field in the first heat of the afternoon, Meade stepped out in front in each of the remaining three heats and drove the Amboy horse to first money. The result of the 224 trot was as follows:

Charlie Herr, Jr., R. G. Jacobs, Amboy	5 1 1 1
Guy J., L. W. Shields, Rockford	1 2 3 2
Ira Todd—D. Haring, Clinton	2 5 4 3
Thistle Mac—J. P. Aschenbeck, Rock Ridge	3 4 2 4
Peter Salome—C. M. Weise, Aurora, Ill.	4 3 5 5
Time—2:14 1/4; 2:16 1/4; 2:18 1/4; 2:17 1/4.

One Driver Thrown
Sallie Bingen, owned by John W. Fogle of Grand Ridge, proved a bad actor in the start and after several attempts to get away with the field, reared and threw her driver from the sulky. Attendants who ran to the horse, prevented a runaway and possible accident on the track.

The result of the first division of the 224 pacing event was as follows:
All The Times—Emmerson Whitney, Rockford 1 1 1
Einwuh—C. D. Monbleam, Aurora 2 4 2
Virginia Bell—Baker & Scott, Wapella 3 2 3
Dr. Hedekewer—C. H. Brainard, Graylake 5 3 4
Time—2:14 1/4; 2:16 1/4; 2:16 1/4.

The second section finished as follows:
Ben Direct—G. K. Schmidt, Chicago 1 1 1
Paddy Jr.—R. P. Ackburg, Rockford 2 2 3
Baby Doll—Roy Gallup, Grand Ridge, Ill. 3 4 2
Billy K.—Len Wales, Kankakee, 4 3 4
Black Beauty and Dixie Flyer also started. Chancey Roy and Belle McMurphy were distanced.
Time of the mile—2:12 1/4; 2:14 1/4; 2:17 1/4.

Sublette defeated Ohio in the baseball game which was played in the morning.

Automobile dealers throughout the county who were showing their wares at the fair were permitted to parade once around the track during the race program.

Several aspirants to public office, subject to the primaries next spring, attended the fair yesterday. Sheriff Arthur Hamilton of Whiteside county, who is a candidate for representative from this district, was shaking hands. Representative Henry Allen of Lyndon was meeting friends on the grounds and Joseph F. Kiduff, county treasurer of LaSalle county, republican candidate for the office of state treasurer was passing out his cards.

DAMAGE SUIT
AFTERMATH OF
AUTO ACCIDENTFreeport Dealer Made
Defendant in Suit for $10,000

Freeport, Ill.—George W. Brokhansen, automobile dealer, Freeport, is made defendant in a suit for $10,000 damages, filed in Circuit court Friday by William Kness, father of 14-year-old Roy H. Kness, 22, Lanark, who, it is alleged, died from injuries sustained September 7, 1924, in an accident on state road No. 26, a short distance south of Freeport.

The bill of complaint charges that on that date Leona Brokhansen, minor daughter of G. W. Brokhansen, was driving a car northward on route 26 and that in attempting to pass a horse-drawn vehicle driven by George Rutter, Freeport, she caused the horse to become frightened and run away, and in colliding with a Ford car just ahead, in which Roy H. Kness, of Lanark, was riding.

The Kness car was overturned and Kness so badly injured that he died two days later, the bill relates. Carelessness on the part of the defendant, through his daughter, is alleged.

State Automobile Investigator or Fellows of Morrison has been assisted by State Motorcycle Officers Church and Lenox of Dixon in checking up on violators of the Illinois automobile laws. But one arrest was recorded for the four days, E. D. O'Malley of Walton being taken in custody Thursday evening by Officer Fellows. He was taken before Justice George Hines where he was fined $25 and costs on a charge of driving an automobile with fictitious license plates.

TWO OF ILLINOIS
BANKS ROBBED IN NIGHT; LOOT SMALL

Alma and Bismarck Institutions are Thieves' Prey

Danville, Ill., Aug. 29—(AP)—A lone bandit walked into the Farmers & Merchants State Bank at Bismarck, 12 miles north of here, shortly before noon today and compelled the cashier, W. W. Hadley, and his assistant Mrs. Foy Handell, to enter the vault, which he locked. The man took what money he could find on the cashier's desk, estimated at $500 and made his escape in an automobile.

The cashier and his assistant escaped from the vault through a rear door, which locks on the inside, and gave the alarm.

Bank at Alma Robbed
Sometime in Night

Centuria, Ill., Aug. 29—(AP)—Yegmen blew the safe of the Alma State Bank at Alma, 20 miles northeast of here last night and escaped with loot to the amount of $2,000, all the cash the bank had on hand.

The institution was closed this morning. The robbery is thought to have been committed about 5:30 o'clock this morning. A hole large enough for a man to crawl through had been blown in the outer walls of the building. Tools from the Illinois Central section house were stolen and used in gaining entrance to the building. The damage to the building, vault and safe will approximate $2,000, it is said by officials of the bank. County authorities are scouring the country in pursuit of the bandits, but up to 10 o'clock this morning no clue as to their identity had been uncovered.

Hold Two Suspected of Late Bank Theft

Danville, Ill., Aug. 29—(AP)—That James Pierce, alias Joseph Byron, of Terre Haute, Ind., and Fred Snyder, of Danville, held at the city jail here, may have been implicated in the St. Bernice, Ind., payroll robbery last Tuesday was the belief of Pinkerton detectives last night. Pierce, who suffers a bullet wound in his shoulder, was accidentally shot by his wife at Terre Haute four or five weeks ago, he declared.

An automobile said to have been stolen was taken by the police when the two men were arrested.

COMPLETE DEBT
FUNDING EARLY
IS HOPE OF U. S.

Expect to Have Every Agreement Ready for Congress

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—The American debt commission has set a goal of cleaning up all war debt funding in time for action by the next session of congress.

With promise of action already given on the two larger loans yet unfunded, those of France and Italy, officials here believe the positive stand now taken to speed up action by the smaller war time borrowers will enable them to wind up the entire business of debt funding during the coming winter.

The first fruits of the new pressure brought upon the smaller debtors comes in the information that Czechoslovakia will shortly send over a debt funding commission. The Greek government also has authorized its minister here to open negotiations.

With an agreement nearing with Latvia and informal exchanges under way for some time with Estonia, the debt commission is now concerned in the new drive also with obtaining action by Rumania and Jugoslavia, which, with Liberia, complete the group of smaller debtors whose obligations are unfunded.

The Russian debt of more than a quarter of a billion dollars has virtually been written off as uncollectable.

Czechoslovakia's debt which stands on the treasury's books at $91,644,863 has been acknowledged by that government only to the amount of some eighty million dollars and the divergence in calculations has been pressed by its officials in delaying funding steps.

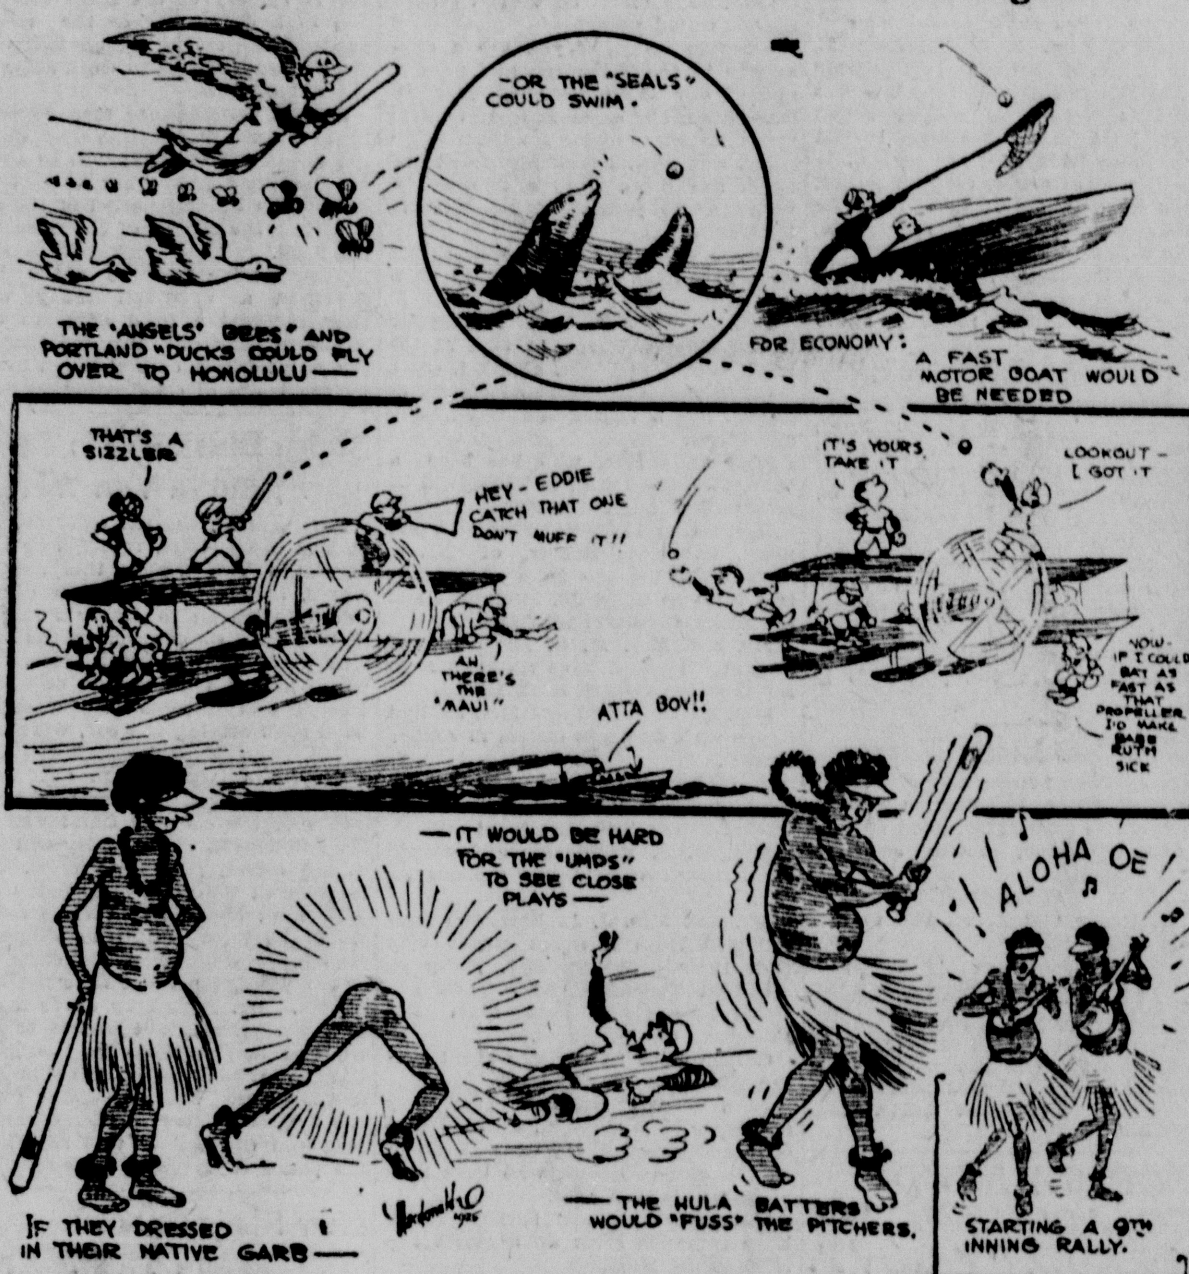

Erie Horse and His

West Union, Iowa, Aug. 29—(AP)—Ed. Miston, 25, jockey of Quincy, Ill., died in a hospital here today from a skull fracture received when Rex Pool, a horse he was riding in a race yesterday, stumbled and fell. He did not regain consciousness.

Rex Pool, owned by Ed. Brooks of Erie, Ill., suffered a broken leg and was shot.

Miston's body is being held here pending word from his mother, Mrs. Mary Miston of Quincy.

As a consistent loser, the local club of the Tri-State League is believed to be unequalled in the annals of organized baseball. The club has lost the last 30 games played and has won only two of the 39 games played during the second half of the season. It hasn't won a game since July 24.

SWEETHEART OF
LIQUOR RUNNER
HELD BY POLICE

Will Be Questioned
Concerning Finding of Slain Runners

Chicago, Aug. 29—(AP)—Pauline Livingston, pretty 24 year old former Nashville, Tenn. stenographer, and sweetheart of Irving Schlig, "flying bootlegger," was held for questioning in connection with the finding of the bodies of Schlig and Harry Berman, gagster, near Ashburn flying field yesterday.

Valuable jewels in her possession were seized to determine if any were profits of Schlig's activities. Search of the apartment revealed no clues to solution of the slayings.

While investigators worked on the theory that the slayers were rival bootleggers they also gave credence to a story that the killings resulted from a plot to steal a big army plane from Ashburn Field.

That the shootings may have been linked to a $1 million dollar safe blowing at the Parkway Hotel several months ago in which Schlig was questioned, also was considered.

Schlig, although only 21, was regarded by the police as one of the most elusive robbers and bootleggers in Chicago.

MINE MULES WILL
FORECAST LENGTH OF MINER'S STRIKE

If They're Brought to Surface
it Means Long Strike

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 29—(AP)—The mine mule in the next 48 hours is expected to forecast whether the anthracite suspension which goes into effect Monday at midnight is to be long or short.

If mules are brought to the surface it will signify belief that the mines will be closed a considerable time.

If mules remain below, sentiment will accordingly be seen to favor brief duration.

Mules are to be brought to the surface in expectation of a long suspension in parts of district 1, the largest of the three union principalities, said advices from Wilkesbarre, Shannock, Pa., the seat of district 9, reports on the other hand that the mules there are to be left underground until there are stronger indications that the suspension will not be short.

Maintenance Men In

Operators and miners agreed on terms of employment for the 10,000 maintenance men who will remain in the mines to prevent deterioration.

Maintenance men, pumpmen, watchmen, electricians, and the like will be employed on the basis established in former suspension periods.

A statement of future policy issued by the mine owners aroused considerable opposition among the miners. W. V. Inglis, chairman, in reporting for the operators scale committee to a meeting of the industry on the conduct of the recent scale negotiations made the following recommendations:

"In view of the present situation, your committee recommends that the operators maintain a firm stand for arbitration of the present differences to prevent a recurrence of interruptions such as the one about to start.

Want Permanent Terms

It believes that any settlement effected should be of a permanent nature providing for a readjustment of the wage scale from time to time to enable it to move freely in competition with other fuels."

Miners in the anthracite region are removing their tools from the pits. Mine supply firms are cutting down forces in anticipation of a falling off in business.

Central Pennsylvania soft coal producers, meeting in Philadelphia, have laid plans to rush into the breach, to be caused by anthracite suspensions, with an output of 5,000,000 tons of highly volatile bituminous coal monthly.

Word came from the soft coal fields of increasing activity in anticipation of better times.

Claims Perfection of Monster Plane of Wonderful Capacity

Chicago, Aug. 29—(AP)—Colonel William Mitchell, former head of the army air service, says an American super-airplane capable of a non-stop flight to Paris with a ton of explosives has been perfected but government permission to test it has been withheld.

"The producers of this plane believe, and I believe, that the huge biplanes they have built are capable of flying to Peking with a single stop at Nome, Alaska. The planes will make 113 miles an hour for sixty hours. But we cannot prove it unless the army and navy heads see fit to grant us permission. Old fogey ideas are holding back the inevitable."

COOLIDGE SEES SON DRILL HIS SQUAD IN CAMP

But Neither Mother or
Dad Able to Pick Him Out

Camp Devens, Mass., Aug. 29—(AP)—President and Mrs. Coolidge visited Camp Devens today to watch their son John and 1,400 other youths in khaki pass in review.

Motoring from Swampscott, they arrived before noon and from the reviewing stand witnessed the final parade of the citizens military training camp.

Marching by as a corporal in Company C of the infantry was their ten-year-old son. Neither the President or Mrs. Coolidge spied him in the even line.

After the review the men in the training camp were massed in front of the reviewing stand and the President presented half a hundred officers and men medals and cups awarded for proficiency during the training period.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge witnessed calisthenic exercises with all the men in the camp participating. They remained in camp for luncheon at the quarters of Brig. Gen. Malvern-Hill Barnum, camp commander.

Major Gen. A. W. Brewster, commander of the first corps area also was a luncheon guest as was John Coolidge, attired in citizens clothes again.

John planned to return to the summer White House with his parents later in the day.

DETECTIVE HERE
PROBES FINDING OF BANK PAPERS

Clue Found in Pocket of Coverall on
Amboy Farm

A representative of a Chicago detective agency has been in Dixon and Amboy this week, investigating the finding of papers which were stolen in the blowing of the Shullsburg, Wis., National bank. The papers were found in the Albert Antoine farm, two miles southwest of Amboy, where they apparently had been hidden beneath an old tree stump. A suit of coveralls, which had been discarded near the scene were also turned over to the detective.

In a pocket of the coveralls was found a clue which practically satisfied the investigator that the garment had been worn by one of the members of the bank blowing gang during their operations. A small package contained steel shims, such as are used in closing up cracks around the combination of a safe before it is blown.

ONE-WAY TRAFFIC
EAST OF CITY IS ABLY CONDUCTED

Practical Way of Directing Traffic is in Force

The side road detour east of the city along the river road is being handled in a manner that prevents the possibility of automobiles meeting on the half mile of one-way road between the waterworks and the cement factory. A new concrete pavement is being put in along the south bank of the river and a dusty dirt track alongside the pavement has been in use since the pavement has been shut off.

At each end of the one-way stretch a watchman stops traffic until the line of cars from the opposite direction has passed by. The last car in the group traveling the road carries a flag handed to the occupants of the car by the watchman who lets the traffic go in that direction. Upon arrival at the other end of the one-way road, the last car delivers the flag to the watchman there, and he knows the road has been closed to traffic at the other end.

The line of cars waiting to go in the opposite direction over the dirt road is then started, and the watchman sends the flag back by the last car in the group. This system works out well and people seem to take the necessary delay good naturedly. The road is open before the cement plant is reached and from there on to Grand Detour the going is good over the gravelled roads.

The road from Oregon to Byron was completed yesterday afternoon. There is a stretch of about 6 1/2 miles from Byron to Rockford that has not as yet been completed, but it was decided to put two mixers on and finish the work in a short time.

Drove Car Without

George Vickery of this city was fined $10 and costs by Justice J. O. Shaulis yesterday on a charge of driving an automobile without license plates. The complaint was made by State Automobile Investigator Fellows of Morrison.

Sedative Puts Goat and Human
Baby Fast Asleep

Macomb, Ill., Aug. 29—(AP)—A goat and a baby are awake and well here today, apparently unaffected by the influence of "sleeping tablets," administered by three mischievous youngsters of Mrs. Alice St. John.

Finding the tablets at home the three children powdered them and sprinkled the powder on watermelon rinds which they fed the goat. Shortly after the goat on whose milk the six-month-old baby of Clarence Haley feeds, fell dead asleep and all next day the baby drowsed heavily.

Today the goat awoke after two days and two nights sleep and shook herself, and the baby, wide awake and waiting for milk, took cow's milk till the parents were sure the soporific effect of the boys' prank had entirely passed.

Nothing more seriously resulted from the episode than a scare for two families and sound spanking for three youngsters.

PRACTICAL JOKER
MAY HAVE CAUSED
FATAL GUN BLAST

Sand Filler Reported Removed From Practice
Howitzer Shell

Rockford—Negligence or a practical joker caused the tragedy at Camp Grant Monday, when eight colored soldiers were killed and nine others seriously wounded by an exploding three-inch Stokes mortar, it was indicated at camp, when the official investigating board submitted its formal report to Maj.-Gen. Milton J. Foreman 33rd Division commander.

"I prefer to make no comment on the report, as I have turned the complete findings over to Carlos E. Black, the adjutant general, and I believe it is his place to make public all or any part of the report at his own discretion," said General Foreman, "but I believe the findings should have as much publicity as the original catastrophe."

"I have not read the report as yet," said General Black, "and I will make no statement until I have digested the facts and discussed the case with General Foreman."

Explosive Substituted for Sand
The board is reported to have found that a practice shell was emptied of a sand filler and an explosive charge inserted in its place and improperly sealed before discharged, causing a premature explosion in the tube or gun barrel. Identity of the person or persons who removed the sand and inserted the explosive charge was not ascertained by the board.

The task of making a thorough investigation and placing the responsibility for the accident was made doubly difficult because of the death of practically every member of the gun crew, it was said.

Used Proper Care
Investigation disclosed, however, that all proper care was taken in the issuance of the practice shells and all were properly marked with the word "Practice."

It is believed that one of the gun crew emptied the sand from the shell and inserted an explosive charge as a practical joke on his comrades, who would be considerably surprised to see the shell burst and explode when it struck instead of remaining intact. Practice shells do not explode.

Raise Fund for Flowers
Kettles were placed on street corners here for citizens to make donations for a floral fund from the city when huge floral bouquets will be taken to Chicago Sunday by a delegation of city officials and leaders in local patriotic societies and placed on the caaskets at a public funeral in the armory in Chicago.

Lane family for seven years and was also a prominent worker in the Church of Christ Scientist in this city. She is survived by two sons, James Fisher of Detroit and William Fisher of Chicago. The funeral was held in Chicago this morning with burial at that place.

FLORIDA LAND CO. ACCUSED OF FRAUD BY GOVT.

Misrepresentation of Holdings There is Charged

Chicago, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Promises of large profits in Florida real estate have brought federal action against Jacob Factor, president of the Florida Land Company, and several associates here, whose business is alleged to have amounted to $1,500,000 since March.

Factor, Maurice E. Drucker, H. Hensius, H. J. Himmelstein and Newton Feldman are charged with use of the mails to defraud.

Large tracts of land in Orange county Florida were sold in Chicago and the Midwest by the Florida Land Company at $100 a lot. The lots were represented as being improved with water, gas and electricity.

The company advertised extensively in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Iowa and sent out a boosters committee including a Chicago alderman and police captain.

Investigators say some of the land is under water and none is improved. The department of justice was asked by the district attorney's office to watch for Jacob Factor at all points of embarkation. Word had been received that Factor was supposed to have started for Europe.

The records of the company were taken to the federal building and two young women employees were taken there to explain the operations of the company.

HAVE A HOME—

Many years ago, Abraham Cowley in his poem "The Wish," wrote: "Ere I descend to the grave May I a small house and a large garden have; And a few friends, and many books, both true, Both wise, and both delightful, too."

After all, the fundamental desires of men have changed very little since these lines were penned. Which one of us would not be happy today with a comfortable little house, filled with human and book friends, that were true, wise, and delightful—and a garden, small enough not to have its care a burden, large enough to allow for winding walks which lead to shady nooks where one may experience a sense of remoteness from the city's bustling roar? We all want these things. How to achieve them is the question.

That is why the home-building activities of others are so interesting; in some of them we may find the answer to our problem.

Franklin Girl is Camp Custer Bride

The Hostess House at Camp Custer, Michigan, has been the scene of many social events since it was built in 1913. Its second wedding took place, Saturday, August 15, at 3 o'clock, when Miss Helen May Lahman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Lahman of Franklin Grove, Ill., became the bride of Allen Erastus Towne, Lieutenant of the 14th Cavalry, in the Officers Reserve Corps.

The ring ceremony was performed by Chaplain C. L. Purdy, of the Second Infantry, and the young people were attended by Lieutenant R. H. Darrell, adjutant of the 14th Cavalry, and Miss Helen Kelly, daughter of Colonel Nelly of Chicago, and Lieutenant Sherman of the Second Infantry. Others among the bridal party were Miss Catherine Dale of Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, and Lieutenant J. C. Dawson of the 14th Cavalry.

The Camp Hostess, Miss Jessie Goodwin, also of Fort Sheridan, sponsored the wedding and had the reception room lavishly decorated with flags and flowers. After the ceremony the bridal party dined at the Post-Tavern in Battle Creek, and the newlyweds spent a short honeymoon at the Post-Tavern and at Gull Lake. The bridegroom attended the University of Illinois and is a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity and Scabbard and Blade. The bride is a member of Delta Zeta Sorority at Northwestern University where she was graduated, and also took post-graduate work at the Universities of Wisconsin and Illinois. At present, she is head of the Latin Department of Urbana High School, Urbana, Illinois.

SIR ARTHUR NOT SO VERY AGILANT, GIRLS—

Chicago, Aug. 28—(AP)—Sir Arthur Balfour, K. B. E., Sheffield Cutlery manufacturer is not sure that the hand that rocks the cradle should rule the world.

"Women have made little impression in British affairs except in local politics," he says.

"I'm not sure I believe in having the hand rule the cradle, rock the world."

BY CYNTHIA GREY—

All in all, this season has been little better or worse than the average. It has had its bright side and its dark side, and the two just about even up. But there is one thing for which we may truly give heartfelt thanks.

We are hearing fewer and fewer attacks on "the modern girl." Ever since the war the modern girl has been a fair target for pun is intended for any preacher, editorial writer, politician or uplifter who felt a yen to attack something and could not at the moment think of anything else to exorcise.

To be sure, graybeards from time immemorial have always spent a good percentage of their time in bewailing the passing of the "good old times" and in pointing out to all day, sundry that the girls of their day were far and away above the newer generations. But during the last few years this complaint has been especially loud and insistent, and has been joined in by more bewailers than ever before.

What sort of mothers will these flip young flappers make? This has been the closing selection on the program since the war.

And our reply, made after considerable acquaintance with mothers past, present and future, is: Mighty good ones.

Because the modern girl, more than any girl that ever lived, is equipped to cope with life, to see it as it really is, to tackle its problems boldly instead of shutting her eyes to them, and to give to her children knowledge that will help them to avoid heartaches and wasted opportunities when they grow up.

There may be less modesty about her, but there is less hypocrisy. If there is less reverence there is also less fear. If there is less regard for the old established standards of conduct there is also more bravery and common sense in finding new and better standards.

The flapper wears too few clothes, cry the graybeards. To which it might be replied, Who says so? She wears fewer than her mother did, to be sure—but she wears enough to keep her warm, certainly; and it is a fact well known to students of the subject that clothing and morals have no connection whatever.

But she smokes cigarettes, they complain. And our reply here is, What of it? Why is it proper for her brother to smoke them and not for her? What is sauce for the gander is sauce for the goose.

Loudest of all, however, her critics complain that the modern girl allows men to take too many liberties with her.

First of all, you might try to find out whether the girl of today,

10 Great Loves in a Man's Life; No. 4—By Ethel on the average, really does indulge in much more freedom along this line than the girl of, say, twenty-five years ago. There have been a lot of loose assertions to that effect; but has anyone ever checked up on it? It's our opinion that things are much the same now as they always were. Only—you hear more about it nowadays.

If self-reliance, frankness, courage, contempt for shame and a growing willingness to discard rose-colored glasses and look at life as it really is are faults, then the modern girl sins grievously. But are they?

Aren't they rather the traits that will help her in the great task that awaits youth everywhere—the rearing and general mending of a world that we of the older generation have more or less allowed to go to smash?

FALL BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Buyers are centering on the markets, optimistic, but cautious. Heavy buying of futures, as practised before the war, has given way to trade in immediate needs. In view of this known change in the attitude of tradesmen, the lack of a buying boom is of no particular concern.

The labor situation is not disturbing business, although the coal strike is expected to cause some inconvenience. Textile workers are having trouble, but that it not such an unusual thing as to cause alarm. It is predicted in the weekly business report to the Dispatch that the workers will return at the reduced wages. Lowering of wages has been followed by offering spring goods at lower prices by the textile manufacturers. There is no disturbing factor in railroad labor, and there is improvement in railroad business on the whole.

Grain movements have made no inroads on money in banks and farmers are not showing haste in moving their winter wheat crops. Less wheat was produced in the United States this year than last year and more wheat was produced in other countries. It is said that the one about offsets the other, so that no radical change is predicted in the market at this time.

REDUCING LAND TAXES.

Formers of Illinois are exerting themselves to obtain a reduction of taxes on their lands, representing that during the time of inflated values the farms were taxed beyond their equity. Cases are being presented to the Illinois tax commission county by county, and during the last twelve months the reductions in taxes have amounted to $57,000 under state levies alone, according to statement of the Illinois Agricultural association.

Beneficiaries in 1924 were Vermillion, Logan, Whitside, Kane, Montgomery, Cass, Shelby and Ja Daviss counties.

Before the commission now are the complaints of McLean, Ogle, Peoria, Kane and Clay counties.

It is said that the movement for reduced farm values is general throughout the cornbelt states, where land was moving at extraordinary prices during the years that war prices were received for farm products. When prices dropped and sale of land at any price stopped, assessed valuations remained at the peak.

PRICE FIXING.

There is one place in the country where government price fixing is practiced, and it's a big success. At least, from the viewpoint of the thousands who visit Yellowstone National Park every year.

The government fixes the price of everything sold in the park and with the exception of gasoline, which must be transported many miles over narrow mountain roads, the prices are no higher than in other parts of the country.

It would be a grand place for profiteers were it not for the watchful eye of the government. Price fixing there makes it possible for thousands to see the park who otherwise couldn't afford it.

TWO HOMES.

Out in the barren sagebrush country of the west sits a tiny home. There is no other house in sight. In fact, there isn't another house within a radius of 30 miles. In the two small rooms of the shack with its "lean to" kitchen lives a family of six.

"What a terrible place to live!" says that auto tourist as he passes by.

But is it any worse or as bad as the crowded tenement sections of eastern cities, where large families are crowded into one or two rooms?

The west at least has fresh air, and plenty of it.

AUTOMOBILES.

The rapid progress America makes is vividly illustrated by the automobiles industry.

Twenty years ago everyone thought the "horseless carriage" was a joke. Now the motor industry in one form or another pays taxes totaling the huge sum of $500,000,000 a year. It's certainly no longer an infant industry.

CONGRESS.

"It's been nearly six months since Congress quit and went home.

And this has been one of the most peaceful summers the country has had, the continual siesta being broken only by Dayton (Tenn.) trying to steal Washington's stuff. Possibly the next constitutional amendment should prohibit Congress from sitting more than four months a year.

Congress doesn't seem to be nearly as necessary as it thinks it is.

Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., says he is a candidate on the platform endorsed in Wisconsin three years ago, when his father was elected to the United States senate. It would be interesting to know how he stands on his father's platform of 1924.

Why are automobile accidents at night instead of in the morning?

TOM SIMS SAYS

Be careful about following in your father's footsteps. You are liable to have a son like him.

What's more discouraging than an enemy who gets along fine.

No matter how long you stay in jail you don't get a vacation.

Looking down on others doesn't place you above them.

Cities are all right, except you can't yell very loud in them.

When you think there's something wrong with somebody it may be you.

In a few years from now they won't see how in the world we got along without using airplanes.

Just think of those who just think they would be perfectly satisfied if they were in your place.

Fast living is lots of fun until you hit a sharp curve.

A big family keeps a man so busy he hasn't time to worry as much as he really should.

Raise your children like hothouse flowers and they will blossom out into blooming idiots.

The flower of American manhood is fast rising.

You never really know how lucky or unlucky you are.

People who can't play any kind of music have to relieve their feelings by telling their troubles.

Being away from a place is nothing to worry about. You always are away from millions of places.

The real trouble with all narrow minded people is they are too narrow minded to realize it.

Electric fans will blow about anything. So will some people.

BY CHESTER H. ROWELL

"Our joint navies must keep open the ways and guard the peace of the Pacific sea American, Japanese and British naval officers, when they toast each other. It is a pleasant phrase, and always evokes applause.

"But against whom shall they defend it?" inquired a lady less trained than masculine plattitudinarians to accept phrases without analysis.

"Surely there are no pirates or buccaners so long as to require great battleships to police them, and there is no other national navy that could cope with the least of these; still less with all combined."

The answer, of course, could not have been made in public speech, or an international social occasion.

For the only frank answer would have been: "Against each other." So long as these three great fleets patrol the Pacific, no other will dare invade it. And so long as each of these is invulnerable in its home waters against either of the others, but could be endangered by the other two combined, no one of them will dare break the peace. They are thus a guarantee of peace, against each other, as well as against all others.

Against pirates and privateers alone destroyers, speed boats and a few base cruisers would be more effective police than the present war armament.

Against any outside menace, a quarter of the present force would be enough. Against each other, anything is enough, provided it is balanced. The Washington Conference balanced it, on one basis. It can go lower only by being again balanced, by joint agreement on a new basis.

When America Is Out of Debt

If things keep on their present course, America will almost have repaid the money we borrowed to loan Europe, as well as all we spent ourselves to help Europe, before Europe has fairly begun to repay us.

Treasury officials estimate that the whole American debt may be wiped out, by American taxes alone, in twenty-five years.

Italy talks of a moratorium of ten years before even beginning to pay, and France is jockeying for as long a delay as possible.

Even after they begin paying, their installments, on interest and principal combined, will be less than we are paying out in interest alone on the same money.

That means that they will never pay any of the principal, nor all of the interest, and that for as long an interval as possible they will pay nothing at all. Meantime, before they have much more than started, we shall have finished. Whatever comes in after that will be "velvet."

Carping at Flapper Old Stunt

Carping at the flapper and her ways is "old stuff." Doubtless Eve began it, with Cain's daughter. At any rate, here is the authority of the Roman poet, Horace, as to how it was, nearly two thousand years ago: "Our grown girls love to learn

Of lewd suggestion in the dancer's school; Nay, each with evil tricks is full Ev'n from her callow days."

Perhaps some day a generation will live on earth with memory enough to recall when it was young. Until then, the flapper, each generation under a new name, will be perpetual subject of discussion. Her crime is to be young, when we are old.

THE DUTCH CLOCK'S STORY

Tick Tock, the clock fairyman climbed up the pendulum of the old clock and perched himself on top.

Tick Tock the clock fairy climbed up the pendulum of the old wall-clock and perched himself on top.

Nancy and Nick stood in the room below, watching.

"I see you need a thorough dusting," said Tick Tock to the clock. "A clock without a case gets very dusty in his insides, and it's a wonder you feel all out of sorts. It's just the same as if a person's heart or lungs got dusty. They couldn't work either."

He took his bellows and blew all the dust out of the old clock's works, and he oiled and tightened and wound the old fellow, until the wagon-wheel said he felt better than he had since before his ocean journey a hundred years before.

"You see," he said, "I was fearfully sea-sick on the trip over to America from Holland where I was born. They were a long time getting me cured."

"Is Holland a nice place?" asked Nancy. "I've seen pictures of it in books. It has a good many windmills and canals in it, hasn't it?"

"Yes, indeed, and green fields and the bluest sky in the world," sighed the old clock. "And storks! Don't forget the storks. One called Kiek lived on our roof."

"Oh, do tell us about them," begged Nick.

"Mister Wag-on-the-Wall chuckled. 'I'll tell you a story about Kiek and how I saved her nest. For Kiek was a lady stork and mother of a family.'

"It was this way. Every year when the storks came back from Africa to spend the pleasant summer months in Holland, and raise their

In very early times it was observed that tuberculosis was more apt to occur at certain ages and under certain conditions of living. Hippocrates, the father of medicine, noted that it was most frequent between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five. It is common knowledge now among physicians that any cause which weakens the individual lessens his resistance and predisposes to tuberculosis. A powerful physique is not necessarily a safeguard.

There is a growing conviction that infection in tuberculosis usually occurs in childhood. The younger the child the more intimate the contact and the more prolonged the exposure the greater is the danger. It is estimated that about 10 per cent of all deaths among children under fifteen years of age are due to tuberculosis in some form. The relation of early infection to tuberculosis in later life is important. It is believed that most people are infected before the age of sixteen.

Between the ages of twenty and forty about one-third of all deaths are due to tuberculosis.

It is most frequent among the poor because they cannot avoid fatigue nor nurse minor ailments nor escape other diseases which predispose to infection. Nor can they house and feed themselves in a manner to strengthen their resistance to the germ.

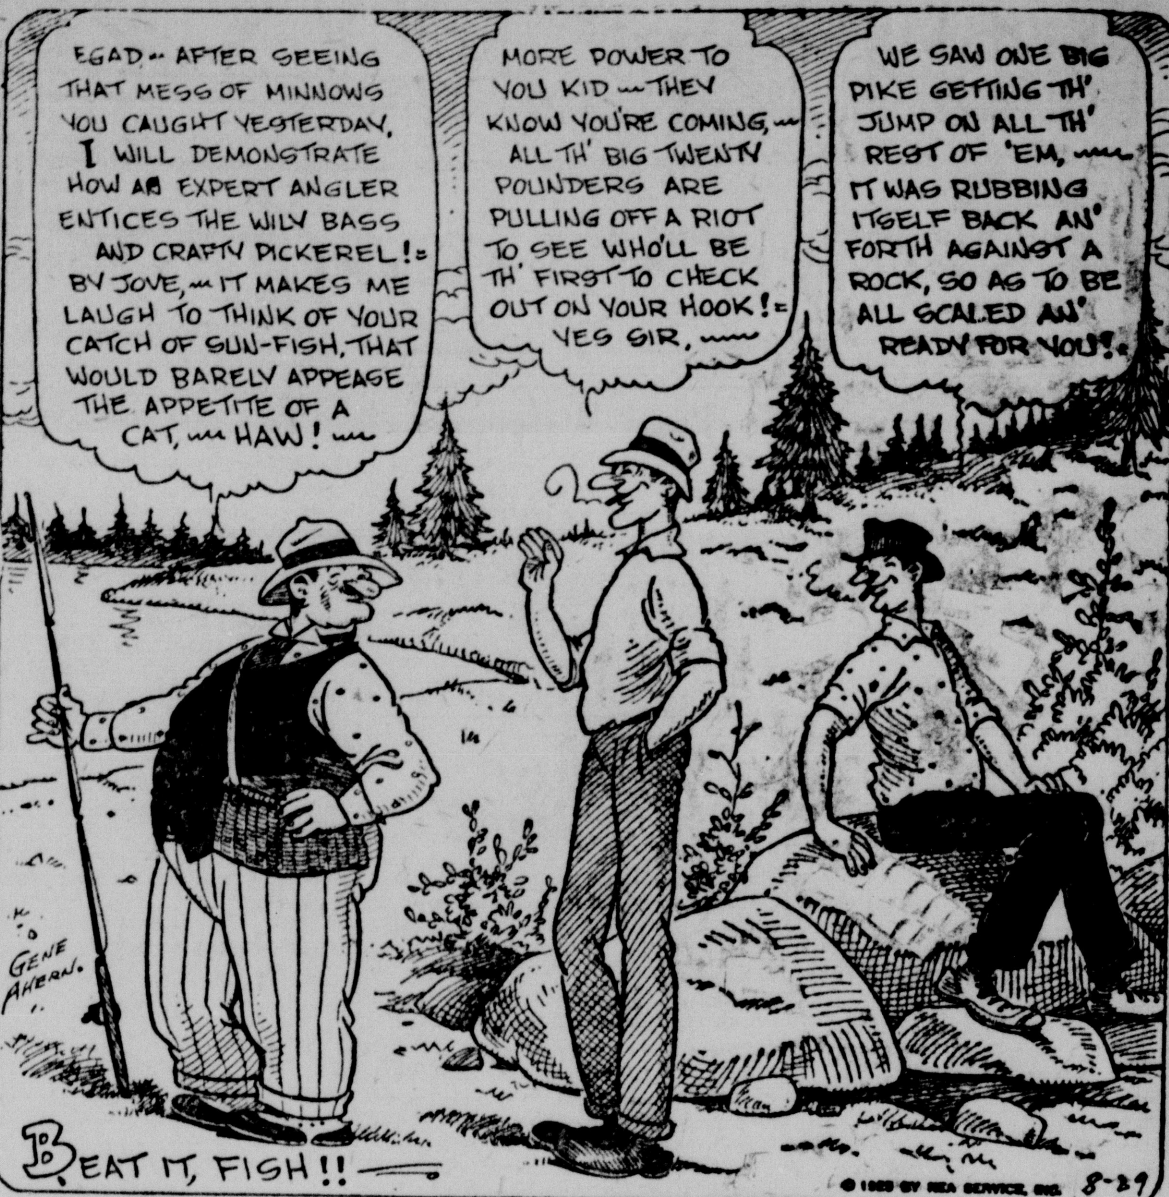

The poverty stricken worker, the struggling student, the religious recluse, the roue and the rounder, the dissolute spendthrift, the miser, the ascetic, the chronically tired business man, and the over amused society girl, are predisposed to tuberculosis through unwise or unworthy exhaustion of physical resources.

LACK OF PROPER FOOD BLAMED

The first predisposing cause of tuberculosis is lack of proper food. In the average American home too little time is given to the study of children's diet during the first ten years of child life and even when food is properly prepared for children it must not be forgotten that it often takes time and patience to induce a playful, active child to eat proper things in sufficient quantity and at the proper time.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

BY AHRENS

The capitalist, who hastily consumes a scanty breakfast of toast and coffee, works busily all day, in his office with only a hasty lunch at noon, is not well fed even though he consumes a full meal in the evening and has a little lunch after the theater and may have taken in the course of the day a greater quantity of food than he actually needs.

The child who refuses at table wholesome articles of food such as bread and butter, vegetables and meat, cannot maintain a satisfactory degree of nourishment.

A lack of knowledge of food values is very common, especially in cities where the products of the delicatessen shop attracting the eye and the palate, tempt the housewife of moderate circumstances to give delicatessen shop products precedence over wholesome soups, vegetables, roasts, and stews from the home kitchen.

TUBERCULOSIS IS CONTAGIOUS

At the present time there are many people who still do not know that tuberculosis is contagious and because of this lack of knowledge to not take precautions.

The anti-spitting laws now existing in most cities deserve to be backed by a strong sentiment.

The viciously careless consumptive who daily exposes his family or neighbors to disease should be put under proper institutional control. It is dangerous to house young children with consumptives by it would be difficult to enforce laws that require that the young child shall be removed from the house.

It is more practicable, perhaps, to remove the consumptive to an institution where he can be trained into carefulness. Tuberculous persons should not be allowed to follow the vocations of dairymen, cooks, waiters, nursemaids or teachers.

Former Emperor Says "Democracy is Fatal"

Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 28.—(AP)—From the viewpoint of William Hohenzollern the workman is not a proletarian but an aristocrat—a collaborator of God.

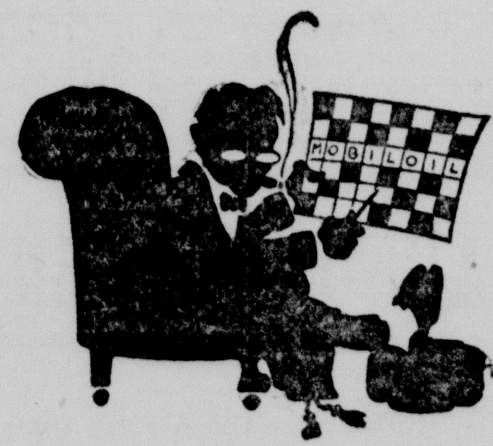

This view was expressed recently by the one-time German emperor to Pastor Ludwig Daschik of Miskolcz, Hungary, during a visit of the pastor to Doorn, Holland where William is in exile. William also condemned "so-called democracy" as being fatal to the normal development of a state.

"I respect the working man," William is quoted as having said. "In my eyes he is not a proletarian but an aristocrat of the first order, for he is a collaborator of God."

"No democracy ever can hope to conform with the temperament of the classes. A monarchy, on the other hand, always guards the interests of the people, especially if a strong and intelligent fighter is at the head."

"I never sought popularity, which I deemed beneath my dignity. Only lawyer-politicians, those most ridiculous of figures who turn with the wind, cater to public opinion. For that very reason there are no real political leaders anywhere today."

Good Thoughts for Good People

Here, notwithstanding, I abide.
Men chooses not his labour's sphere.
Who knows and follows out his call
Has seen God's writing on the wall.
In words of fire, "Your place is here!"
—Ibsen.

Adapt thyself to the things with which thy lot has been cast, and love the men with whom it is thy portion to live, and that with a sincere affection. No longer be either dissatisfied with thy present lot, or shrink from the future.
—Marcus Antonius.

Unity in faith is indeed a bond of brotherhood, for the mere fact of faith in a common cause tends to unite. But knowledge of the Son of God, that is, of the Christ, is the surer bond of unity; for such knowledge, involving as it does the truth about God and man, reveals the true brotherhood, man's unity with the Christ in divine Principle.
—Christian Science Sentinel.

One country, one constitution, one destiny.
—Daniel Webster.

How sweet, how heavenly is the sight,
When those who love the Lord
In one another's peace delight,
And so fulfill His word!
When free from envy, scorn, and pride,
Our wishes all above,
Each can his brother's failings hide,
And show a brother's love!
—Joseph Swain.

Blessed are the peacemakers; for they shall be called the children of God.
—Christ Jesus

Men's hearts ought not to be set against one another, but set with one another and all against the evil thing only.
—Caryle.

I therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called. With all lowliness and meekness, with long suffering, forbearing one another in love, endeavouring ing to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

—Paul.

AMUSEMENTS

GREAT ATTRACTION

"THE GORILLA" IS AT THE ADELPHI THEATER

"The Gorilla" one of the big attractions in the amusement line, the funniest show on earth at the Adelphi Theater.
The play produced by Donald Gal-laher, and acted so thrillingly by the veteran comedians, James C. Marlowe and Lon Hascall, and beautiful Elizabeth Carmichael and their associates, has since it was first produced in New York two months ago proven a theatrical sensation.

As the Broadway managers who thought "The Gorilla" was "too comical to take a chance on" (The same managers by the way who couldn't "see anything in Aljo's Irish Rose") are kicking themselves where it hurts most as they hear the roar and gurgles of the audiences chattering at the Gorilla at the Selwyn Theater in New York, just as Chicago audiences are chattering there, and London audiences gasping, "Why it's awfully funny a scream, in fact!" over there.
In Chicago, "The Gorilla" is already more popular than any soda fountain, and once set at the Studebaker Theater for its summer run, it may be expected to be the frostiest toast of the theatergoers of the entire Chicago district, which includes us.

Mail orders for the run at the Studebaker Theater are being filled out as received. Send stamped addressed envelope, with your remittance to the box office there. Prices are: Saturday nights, $1 to $3 incl. advance; other nights, 75c to $2.50. Wednesday and Saturday matinees, 75c to $2. Ten per cent should be added to all prices to cover tax.
So when in Chicago go-r-r with the gorilla at the Studebaker, and keep cool laughing at and with Mr. Mulligan and Mr. Garrity the funniest detectives in the funniest play on earth.

Delaney Can't Fight

New York, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Word was received here today that Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., will be unable to box Paul Berlenbach of New York on Sept. 11, for the light heavyweight championship of the world on account of throat trouble. Efforts are being made to match Mike McTigue, former title holder, to meet his conqueror on that date.

Mexico and Britain to Resume Relationship

London, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Negotiations are under way for a resumption of relations between Great Britain and Mexico, it was learned from an authoritative source.
